

Deadline Friday For Voter Registration

Deadline for voter registration to be eligible to cast your ballot in the general election on Tuesday, Nov. 3, is this Friday, Oct. 2.

You may have strong feelings on parochialism or who should serve during the next four years as Michigan's governor, but if you are not registered to cast your vote Nov. 3 . . . well, forget it.

Persons who are otherwise eligible to vote but who are not currently on the registration rolls have only until Friday to qualify for the general election.

Persons may register at the city or township clerk's office where they reside.

Aside from the important race for governor and lieutenant governor, there are also the very vital offices of secretary of state and attorney general to be decided. There is also a U.S. senate and congressional office of which Crawford County is represented.

In the State Legislature, a state senator for the 36th District and a representative in the legislature for the 103rd district, of which Crawford County is a part, will be on the ballot.

Also there will be two seats on the supreme court besides members of the state board of education, trustees to U of M, Michigan State U, and Wayne State U. to be decided on.

Locally, county commissioners will be elected for the seven districts within the city and county, plus all the offices in the several townships.

Three important state propositions will be on the ballot. They include proposals to provide bonding for low income housing; granting the vote to 18-year-olds; and the aforementioned parochial proposal.

Area Residents Attend White House Forum

Some 50 people from Grayling, Rose City, Gladwin and Higgins Lake gathered at 1 o'clock for the White House Community Forum at The Legion Hall Wednesday last week, under leadership of Mrs. Lora Gould, Senior Citizen Director.

Group singing opened the program, the Rev. Paul Frederick leading and Mrs. June Feldhauser at the piano. Mayor Derek McEvers welcomed those present. Earl Broadbent, general chairman of the forum, then read a greeting from Governor Milliken, after which he passed out a questionnaire requesting opinions on income, housing, health care, and education. These were collected for sorting by computer along with identical questionnaires from the rest of the nation.

Mrs. Gould thanked the Legion for the use of the room, then introduced the panelists: Maurice Cluff, Social Security Office, Traverse City; Roberta Wright, Bureau of Social Services for Crawford County, substituting for Director Donald Burkett; Mrs. Eleanor Hilley, substituting for Mercey Hospital Administrator Sister Hilda; Ann Beltz of the Roscommon County Health Dept., substituting for Kathleen Webb; Mrs. Donald Burkley, dietitian; Lionel LeClaire of the Michigan Employment Security Commission; John H. Alef, President of Grayling State Bank; Fraser Dean; Wilma Case, O. E. O. outreach worker; and the Rev. Paul Frederick.

Each panelist spoke briefly on his subject, then answered questions from the audience. Items considered during the afternoon were Income, Health, Housing, Employment, Retirement, Fi (See Area Resident on page 10)

Defeat Onaway 20-14

Petoskey St. Francis Here To Meet Vikings Friday

JUBILANT VIKINGS race off the gridiron following their come-from-behind win over the Onaway Cardinals last Friday night. Grayling scored a fourth quarter TD to win the contest 20-14. (Photo by Kipp)

Down 14-0 at the end of the first quarter, the Grayling Vikings battled back to hand the Onaway Cardinals a 20-14 defeat on the local gridiron last Friday evening.

With the win the Vikings successfully started their bid for a second straight Northern Lower Michigan League championship, and also avenged their only defeat last year at the hands of the Cardinals.

This Friday evening, the Vikings will again be at home as they host the Petoskey St. Francis Crusaders in an NMLL game. The Crusaders opened with an 8-0 win over the Kalkaska Blue Blazers last Friday. Other league action found the Manistota Ironmen blasting Pellston 32-0 and East Jordan defeating Harbor Springs 26-8.

Onaway's two first period scores were tallied by Rick Boucher on a 10-yard run and a 27-yard jaunt up the middle by Steve Porter. Onaway quarterback, Jim Holmes ran for a two point conversion, to lead 14-0.

The Vikings battled back in the second quarter, with a strong defense, as their offense jelled to score two TD's. The first came on a 7-yard pass play from Tim Mead to Jerry King, with the second tally on a 3-yard rollout by Mead. Both conversion attempts failed, with the score standing at 14-12 at the end of the first half.

Grayling received the kickoff to start the second half with Jim Tobin blasting up the middle to the Cardinal 48 yard line. The Vikings moved the ball to the 20 only to lose it on a pass interception.

The rest of the third quarter was strictly a defensive battle as neither team could muster a sustained drive.

In the fourth quarter, Onaway went to the air and moved the ball into scoring position, only to have an interception in the end zone by Tom Gates, Viking linebacker.

Terry Fitzpatrick replaced Mead at quarterback, and directed the Vikings on an 80-yard scoring drive, passing to Brian Trunkley the last 23 for the go-ahead score. Fitzpatrick scored the conversion attempt on an option play around end to give the Vikings a 20-14 lead.

Onaway threatened following the kickoff, only to have Dunkley pickoff a pass attempt. The Vikings moved in to scoring range, but were stopped on a 15-yard holding penalty. Grayling's defense held the Cardinals after they gave up the ball with 59 seconds left in the game.

King led the Vikings running attack with 109 yards rushing. Onaway's Boucher gained 39 yards in the first half, but was held to only 8 yards in the second half as the Viking defense stopped the Cardinal running game.

Mead and Fitzpatrick combined to hit on 6 of 12 pass attempts, each tossing a TD strike.

In total offense, the Vikings outgained the Cardinals 294-133 yards, with the Cardinals losing 42 yards attempting to pass in the second half.

Doug Legg was the leading tackler as he anchored the Vikings' tough defensive line, with Jim Corlew and Tobin leading the defensive backs.

"The boys played very poor football the first quarter, and it was nice to see them settle down the way they did and make the big plays when they were necessary," coach Mike Weiland said following the game.

Fitzpatrick did a very good job under constant pressure when he replaced Mead in the quarterback slot in the 4th quarter. Coach Weiland added, "When the players have the desire to win as ours did in the 2nd half, it makes football a great game."

Why Jaycees?

You might have first noticed the Jaycees because of their work in the area of youth and sports activities. The Jaycees tackle projects with their own members furnishing the ideas, labor and follow-through; each Jaycee dips into areas of knowledge and experience not gained through his occupation or profession.

All young men between the ages 21 to 34 are urged to attend an informal meeting next Monday, Oct. 5, at 8:00 p.m. at Jerry Walker's, 775 Michigan St.

JV's Get By Harrison 14-6

The Grayling JV's won their second game of the season but it was a battle all the way. Wayne Westervelt hit tight end, Bob Miller, in the first quarter for the games first touchdown. The conversion was good, making the score 8-0.

The score remained this way until the third quarter when Harrison scored on an end run catching the defense sleeping. The point after touchdown was stopped, making the score 8-6. In the 4th quarter, Harrison advanced the ball to the Grayling 5 yard line. On a first down, goal to go situation, Joe Shepler recovered a Harrison fumble so Grayling took over. This proved to be a key play as Grayling went on to score. Chris Dunkley threw a perfect 40 yd. bomb to flanker Jim Bobenmoyer in the end zone.

The Grayling defense was led by Shepler, D. Vajda, Miller and Bill Horning. Horning was leading rusher with D. White picking up some good yardage. Bruce King performed well on offense and defense. Jim Alef and Brad Hatfield saw a lot of action.

The JV's have lost the services of several key players due to injuries — Mark Doty, Dan Moore, Wade Gee and Jim Bobenmoyer. It is hoped that these players are ready for action soon. It looks like a promising year for the Junior Vikings. Come and see these young athletes in action. Be a Viking backer.

Former Resident Wins Fifth Golf Title At Port Huron

Emerson Brown, former Grayling resident, recently won the Port Huron Golf Club men's championship for the fifth time.

Following is the article that appeared in the Port Huron Times Herald.

"Emerson Brown played his 225th shot of the Port Huron golf championship 'safely' into the hole from 145-yards away to collect his fifth crown in 20 years.

"Brown eagled the 18th hole of his second round and 54th hole of the tourney by sinking a seven-iron approach shot.

Brown in addition to his PHGC titles the past two years also won in 1950, 1956 and 1958."

Local Couples Stop Traffic On Big Mac

Monday, Sept. 21, after a very successful bird hunting trip and bagging a near limit, also one coyote around Trout Lake area of the U.P. and weathering an all-night electrical storm which started Sunday night at 8 p.m. and was still going strong at 8 a.m. Monday with about three inches of rain, Mr. and Mrs. Morden Post of Lake Margrethe started home, hauling a 17 foot trailer and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Hawkins of Maple Forest driving a pickup and camper.

Led by the Post car and trailer, they stopped by the Mackinac Bridge toll booth and Mr. Post asked the keeper if the wind was O.K. on the bridge. At that time, it didn't seem more than a good wind. The keeper's answer was, "We haven't had any complaints as yet but no one has turned over yet today; you might be the first," in a joking way, and laughed and said, "It's O.K."

They entered the bridge and about one quarter mile from the north end of the main span, the wind and rain suddenly came up and picked up Post's trailer and skidded it crossways of the next lane. Then it rolled over and was about to fall flat when by chance the wind turned and sat the trailer back down on its wheels as easy as a feather. They didn't dare move as now the trailer formed two parts of a triangle.

Mr. and Mrs. Hawkins following with their outfit, stopped because two of their wheels were skipping and they were about to turn over. So, they finally inched their outfit in the hole to form a full triangle and there they sat to weather out the wind — that some times picked the trailer off the cement and almost turned the camper over.

The bridge authorities closed down the bridge on account of high winds. After about one-half hour they brought a large bus and escorted the returning hunters off by breaking the wind, which had let up some.

There was minor damage to the trailers outside, but what a mess inside. All the turnbuckles on Mr. Hawkins' camper were straightened out. All felt they were very lucky but Mrs. Post still thinks she has a few well-put words to tell the tollkeeper when she gets back up that way.

Members Attend Chamber Dinner

A capacity crowd attended the annual Chamber of Commerce dinner held last Thursday evening at the Chief Shoppenagons Motor Hotel.

New officers and members of the board of directors were introduced along with individuals who have recently opened businesses in the area and have joined the chamber and out of town guests who attended.

Major David "Skip" Hanson will head the chamber as president for the coming year, with Joseph Molnar, first vice-president; Albert Westervelt, second vice-president; and William Hart, secretary-treasurer.

Other members of the board include: Dr. G. Robert Schwarz, William Scheer, James Snyder, Kenneth Chappell, Jack Mason, H. D. "Whitey" Madsen, Clare Madsen, Jr., David Sabin, and Kenneth Carlisle who is automatically on the board as the outgoing president.

Principal speaker of the evening was Thomas Fallon, editor of the Bay City Times.

He described newspapers as watchdogs of the public interest, citing investigation of the Peoples State Bank of Auburn, which was brought about through the efforts of The Bay City Times as an example. But he noted how such activity has often led to a "credibility gap" between papers and readers because of apparent emphasis upon the negative side of the news. He explained that all valid news should be published.

Fallon also described the "Letters to the Editors" columns as America's replacement for the aspirin as a remedy for headaches and frustration. He cited the frequent personal attacks made by readers, frustrated, angry and bewildered by the present course of the world, but emphasized that the editorial page is not designed to be a sugar coated pill to satisfy all readers, but a reflection of and commentary on the important trends in the local community and the rest of the world.

He also said that the press is an expression of free speech, which must be protected for all individuals and organizations.

Editor

September 22, 1970

Editor,
Crawford County Avalanche,

Grayling, Mich. 49738

Dear Sir,

It appears many organizations receive much publicity for just announcing that they intend to clean trash from a river on a specific date. However, no one seems to notice when the job is done regularly by the canoe livery operators themselves.

The South Branch Canoe Livery Association of Roscommon has been regularly cleaning the South Branch of the AuSable, including the famous Mason Tract, for several years. We service trash barrels along the river and have recently completed our annual major cleaning of the river and its banks. This concentrated effort took place between August 10th and Labor Day. Every man, woman and older child connected with all five Roscommon canoe liveries (Campbell's, Mead's, Paddle Brave, Watters Edge and Hiawatha) took part in this clean-up. We are very proud of the South Branch, however, we seek no publicity for our efforts.

Now it seems other groups are offering to clean the South Branch, and although we welcome them and provide canoes, we feel the publicity they seek creates the impression that the canoe livery operators care nothing and do nothing for the streams on which they offer canoe trips. Our continuous maintenance of a clean river is never mentioned when the carnival type clean-ups are publicized.

We do not protest the publicity the press gives these groups, as all attention drawn to the problem of littering is beneficial. However, our regular canoe livery clean-up crews are very discouraged when outside groups are given complete credit for our strenuous efforts to maintain a beautiful river.

We would appreciate your fairness in reporting such river clean-up events.

Sincerely,
(Mrs.) Nancy Hubbell

BARBERTON, OHIO — Kenneth C. Achard, son of Mr. and Mrs. Franz C. Achard, Route 1, Roscommon, Mich., has joined The Babcock & Wilcox Company as a production sponsor and is in the initial phase of a company-wide orientation program.

Achard, a 1970 graduate of the University of Michigan with a bachelor of science degree in industrial engineering, is participating in a four-week session at Barberton. He has been assigned to the power generation division's fossil power generation department.

Achard is married to the former Mary Tallman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Tallman, of Cheboygan.

The couple resides at 5879 Portage St., North Canton, Ohio. Babcock & Wilcox's power generation division is one of the largest suppliers of conventional and nuclear steam generating systems for electrical power, industrial process and marine service. It is also a major producer of hollow forgings; pressure vessels; nuclear reactors; heat exchangers; tubular oxygen-converter hoods for use in the steel industry; filter, wet scrubber and gas absorption systems for air pollution control, and other industrial goods such as recovery process equipment for the pulp and paper industry.

New Bonus On Savings Bonds

John H. Alef, Crawford County chairman for U. S. savings bonds, reports that the 1/2 percent bonus just approved by President Nixon means that savings bond owners can realize 5 1/2 percent annual interest on their bonds purchased on and after June 1, 1970, and those bought before, and still outstanding. There'll be no need to redeem any bonds to benefit from the new rate. Now, more than ever before, it pays to buy and hold onto your bonds. The increase is a real boon," Alef said.

He noted that bonds are "like good friends of the family to people in Crawford County. They're present at milestone occasions. You'll find them given at births and christenings. Thru the payroll savings and bond-a-month plans they're accumulated to help pay for events important in family life — education, new homes and autos, weddings, vacations, and eventually, retirement. Bonds are a friend in need during unexpected family emergencies."

Alef also pointed out that Federal funds for protecting our environment, and for developing recreation areas are bolstered through the purchase of savings bonds.

"Savings bonds are the best way most of us have to help our country, our neighbors, and ourselves — all at the same time. The higher interest rate, by making bonds an even more valuable part of our personal financial security, will encourage more people to buy bonds or to increase their holdings.

"The rate increase should be a fine inducement to our Future Farmers, 4-H Clubbers and other young people who haven't yet begun to save for their futures with U. S. savings bonds," Alef said.

BITS O' TALK

Attend The Church Of Your Choice

THE CHURCH FOR ALL

ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Wheels in Motion

When the gears of a machine mesh together in motion, things begin to happen. Wheels turn, and power is transmitted to every part of the mechanism.

Prayer is something like that. Individual prayer is a vital and sacred thing. Each of us has moments when we—and we alone—must turn to God.

And collective prayer—mass prayer—can be a tremendous force for good too. It is as if thousands of "spiritual gears" suddenly were meshed together into a unit directed by a single purpose.

On Worldwide Communion Sunday, remember the power of collective prayer. Join with your neighbors throughout the globe by attending church and praying both for peace and for each other.

Youthful Senility

A study of the problems of growing old in America has turned up a bit of information on senility, which is supposedly one of the afflictions of age, that may explain the aberrations of some of our younger people. The study found that, "... senile traits are not peculiar to the aged. A group of college students and a group of the elderly were recently rated according to the characteristics of senility, and the students were found to be more neurotic, negative, dissatisfied, socially inept and unrealistic. The students, in sum, were more senile than their elders."

It is gratifying to discover that some of the more extreme exhibitionism and general hell raising among a minority of youths is not the work of imbeciles or communists, but rather symptoms of early senility.

Passing The Torch

National 4-H Week is to be observed from October 4-10. This is one organization that needs no introduction or exaggerated flattery. With a membership of nearly 3 million boys and girls, it reaches into virtually every community.

Local 4-H Clubs and the 4-H program are part of the nationwide educational system of the Cooperative Extension Service — a partnership of the county governments, the State land-grant universities, and the U. S. Department of Agriculture. Any boy or girl from the age of 9 through 19 may join 4-H merely by signing up and choosing a project. These projects cover a wide variety of activities, in agriculture, home economics, citizenship and personal development. Some 400,000 public-spirited men and women guide the 4-H'ers.

National 4-H Week is a reminder of how progress in a free nation is transferred from one generation to the next — together with the principles upon which freedom rests.

The board's dinner meeting was held at Birch Lodge, a resort on Higgins Lake, owned and operated by Frank Carey, member of the board. Members and their wives enjoyed a roast beef dinner. Mr. and Mrs. Carey contributed the total amount of the diners' bill to the Council — $217.50.

To Debate, Or Not To Debate?

by Richard L. Milliman

The approaching of the November general election means, of course, that more and more we will hear the call for genuine political debate.

Candidates will point back to history... to the historic Lincoln-Douglas and Kennedy-Nixon debates.

They will cry that the people have a right and a need to be informed, and what better way is there to inform the people about the merits of the candidates who seek their support than to get the candidates side by side, on the same platform, answering the same questions.

They will loudly assert that the issues are paramount in this election, and the candidates' personalities only secondary if important at all... that the only way the people can understand the issues is for the candidates to meet, face to face, and tackle the issues.

But despite the biennial renewal of a cry for political debate, the voters this year in Michigan will see precious few—if any—political debates.

The discerning voter will notice that usually the candidate plunking loudly for face-to-face debate is the candidate who is not in office, but wants to get there. If it is the incumbent calling for political debate, then usually that incumbent is in real trouble, and probably the underdog in his race.

In a nip-and-tuck race, with no incumbent, the chances of actual debate are much higher.

Usually, the candidate who has a comfortable lead—or thinks he has—sees nothing to gain by climbing upon the same platform with his underdog opponent and jousting with him verbally. Conversely, the candidate who is behind has very little to lose—and quite a bit to gain—if he can entice his leading opponent into open oral warfare.

But a public call for political debate is an honorable and acceptable political tactic, and should not be denied as a tactical weapon.

The leading candidate never actually refuses to debate, however. Instead, he conveniently finds his schedule so full that he just can't work it in. To refuse outright to meet his opponent, rather than to ignore his challenge obliquely, would be an admission of weakness, and could be interpreted as denying the people the right to know.

A genuine political debate—preferably in front of statewide television audiences—would involve opening statements by both candidates, then rebuttals by both, then summaries by both. Theoretically, they would hit the same points, so the people could indeed see how the two of them compared in positions.

But actually, what political debates do develop hardly ever come out that way. Instead, the candidate who is more skillful at the instantaneous use of words picks up political ground. A favorite debating technique is to direct your response on your opponent's points completely away from his strong areas and into your own strong areas, regardless of what the actual point under discussion may be.

Is the public served by political debates? Not usually. The convincing points for a debate audience are such things as how the candidates appeared physically, the types of words and phrases they used, whether one made the other one look silly, which one had the nicer smile, or looked more fondly toward his wife and family, and other matters that have absolutely no bearing on how he would conduct the office he seeks.

In the governor's race, challenger Sander Levin has—of course—issued a debate invitation to Gov. Milliken, who, in turn—of course—has found his schedule chock full without the Levin-Milliken debate possibility.

I don't blame Levin for issuing the debate challenge, and I don't blame Milliken for being too busy. Both strategies make good political sense.

And I also believe that the voters will go to the polls no less enlightened because of the absence of statewide debates.

"If It Fitz . . ."

Pardon My Interdiction

By Jim Fitzgerald

There wouldn't be so much campus unrest if there were more interdiction at the generation gap.

You maybe don't understand that sentence. But I like to keep this column typically topical. Everybody talks about campus unrest here, interdiction there, and the generation gap everywhere. What am I supposed to write about, the League of Nations and Knute Rockne?

When I lived on a campus there was always a bunch of guys getting drunk and putting No Parking signs in the shower. Or they hollered around the girl's dormitory, asking for silk panties when they really wanted something else. Or they snake-danced through town, blocking traffic and bugging merchants.

Mostly, I used to flop in bed and listen to all that noise outside. Or I would retreat to a lovely tavern that sold 10 cent beer. It was frequented by war-weary veterans who had no energy for yanking up parking signs. We often discussed the young nuts who were throwing rolls of toilet paper at each other so as to help Michigan State beat Notre Dame at football the next morning.

But I can't remember anyone saying: "My, there is a lot of unrest on the campus tonight."

These were the recuperation years following World War II but already there was trouble starting in Korea. Another thing I never heard said in that lovely tavern was: "Boy, somebody better interdect those Koreans or the first thing you know, somebody is going to interdect us."

Another thing often discussed over that cheap beer was how come our fathers didn't send us haircut money so we could buy more beer with it. Or how come our mothers kept sending cookies when what we wanted was money for beer. Or how come our fathers couldn't understand why we were studying to become writers and bullfighters, like Ernest Hemingway, rather than merchants and carpet salesmen, like our fathers.

But I can't remember even 1 guy saying, "The trouble is that we have a generation gap."

I think it is ironic that, in 1947, we never said any of these words that everyone is saying now.

Panty raids and snake dances were pretty harmless things, especially when you look at today's Kent State and bombed libraries. The "police action" in Korea was a family brawl compared to the bloodshed in Viet Nam. And the 1947 teen-ager might have thought his dad was a square, but Junior didn't flip out on pills and go live in a doorway in San Francisco.

Things are a lot uglier today, but the words are prettier. You don't kill the enemy; you interdect him. There's not a bunch of violent jerks destroying and disrupting on the campus. That's just unrest. And that's not bitter hate and disrespect between long-haired, turned-on Junior and his racist, Wasp father. It's only a gap.

Years ago I had a boss who, my first day at work, said an uncommonly wise thing. "Let's always have plain talk between us," he said.

What this world needs is more plain talk. Then maybe somebody will listen to somebody. And understand.

Elk are bugling in the Pigeon River country of northern lower Michigan. If you want to hear it, this might be the best time to drive into the country around Gaylord and Vanderbilt and Wolverson. After this year, it could be a sound that will be fading fast.

Literature is still being handed out by the Department of Natural Resources which reports Michigan's elk herd contains an "estimated 2,000 to 3,500 animals." DNR knows this is not true and so do a lot of other people but that doesn't change things.

The danger is that most folks who believe those figures will be lulled into a false sense of security where the elk herd is concerned. The present herd numbers 800 to 800 animals and these are in great danger.

How did elk numbers drop to one-quarter of what was once there? The answer is it didn't drop because it was never as high as DNR once thought.

When the first elk hunting season was held in the Gaylord area in the fall of 1964, DNR researchers used the same census methods they use in counting deer to determine how many elk were in Michigan. It took them two hunting seasons to discover the hunt was a big mistake because the elk herd was much smaller than had originally been thought. Still, no one has ever officially admitted to this boo-boo.

Greater dangers than hunting were still to come, however, in the form of snowmobiles and oil exploration, with the latter the most recent.

Despite loud protests from field personnel, the Lansing DNR gave approval to the wholesale selling of oil and gas drilling leases in much of northern Michigan, including the vital Pigeon River deer yards. Whether deer will be willing to share winter quarters with oil rigs and all of the noise and odor which accompanies them, remains to be seen.

Elk are a little more peculiar. They are very easily disturbed and reproduction is almost nil when this happens. With new roads bulldozed into formerly wild country by the oil companies, new avenues will be opened for snowmobiles and other mechanized invasion.

While the major damage will be started by oil companies, snowmobiles will probably complete the threat. An elk is a big animal, easy to see and easy to track via snowmobile. Many a sincere conservationist, straddling a snow machine, has been known to unthinkingly pursue an elk or deer to exhaustion in order to record the animal on camera film.

It may seem harmless at the time but it is not. Fortunately, snowmobile clubs can and should educate their members to these dangers. Oil companies, under sanction of the Lansing office of the Department of Natural Resources, won't stop drilling for oil and gas just because of a few elk or deer or sensitive human noses which don't like the smell of the underground treasure.

This is why this year may be the best chance to hear elk bugling in the Pigeon River country. It could very well be the singing of their swan song in Michigan.

During the 1969-70 school year all buildings were seriously overcrowded. Membership on the fourth Friday after Labor Day was 1,646 which is 238 more than maximum rated capacity. In order to help cut down overcrowding, two portable buildings were leased to house the two special education rooms for the mentally handicapped. Overcrowding in the High School buildings was especially critical so that black scheduling and released time for older students during study periods was set up as there were no extra rooms that could be used for study halls. Released time was not a success as students were around town all the time and tardiness and absences were hard to control and too numerous. Because of the crowded conditions in the High School, increased tardiness and absences due to released time, and discipline problems resulting from too many people in too small an area, the Board of Education borrowed $280,000 to put up thirteen rooms of re-locatable prefabricated design. The re-locatable buildings will be installed and ready for use by December 14, 1970. As soon as they are ready, half-day sessions will be eliminated and all students will be back on a regular 8:30 to 3:25 p.m. schedule with a half hour for lunch. Long range plans by the Board of Education: 1. Build new High School as soon as possible. 2. When new High School is built, use old building for middle school. 3. Use re-locatable classrooms for the elementary school. The membership for this year at the end of the first week of school is 1,837 students, for an increase of 191 students over last year. The Grayling Elementary School has four (4) sections of every grade except 8th. There are 5 sections of 7th grade and 5 sections of 8th grade. Grayling is growing.

SUNDAY'S SERMON

YOUR WORLD

What kind of a world do you live in? Do you shudder at happenings in your city, state and country—and the world—as you read the headlines of your newspaper? Do you really believe, as some do, that the world is "falling apart at the seams," that old treasured values and traditions have been cast aside by many of the world's people? Do you, indeed, ask, "What has happened to the world?"

If you are concerned, when you have set your paper aside, take a closer look at "your world." Relax. Take into consideration only that part of the world you can see with the naked eye. What is going on about you. What is right and wrong with you and yours? What relationships do you have with your friends and neighbors? What is wrong with local government and what is being done about it? What are the needs of the church to which you belong, the schools which are attended by your children?

If you are an average citizen, there isn't too much you can do about "the world," unless you become concerned and do something about "your" world.

The marriage vows of Gayle Lee Feldhauser, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John L. Feldhauser, of 504 Ottawa St., and Steven E. Dawson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Devere Dawson of 107 McClellan St., were solemnized on Saturday, Sept. 12, at St. Mary's Catholic Church. Msgr. Victor Gallagher officiated at the one o'clock Nuptial Mass before some 300 guests. Music was provided by Mrs. Nancy Hoffman.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride approached the altar wearing a gown of silk organza, fashioned with beaded alencon lace enhancing the stand-up neckline, long bishop sleeves and empire bodice. A sweeping train was attached to the back of her floor-length gown by a bow. Her matching bonnet headpiece held secure English veiling and she carried a bouquet of bronze and white cushion mums.

Doreen Walton of Taylor was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Cheryl Boone of Lincoln Park, Billie Bovee, Libby Kipp and Regina Feldhauser, all of Grayling. Laura Feldhauser of Grayling and Pam Dawson of Grand Rapids were junior bridesmaids. They all wore gowns of brown nylon over taffeta, fashioned with white embroidered flowers enhancing the scooped necklines, long bishop sleeves and empire waists. A band of white ribbon graced the bottom of the floor-length skirts, the sleeves and the waists, which extended into a bow with streamers in the back. They carried arrangements of orange mums and miniature cattails in white baskets.

Flower girls were Karen Williams and Janie Baynham, both of Grayling. They wore green gowns, styled the same as the bridesmaids. Bryan Feldhauser, nephew of the bride, was the ring bearer.

William Joseph, Jr. of Grayling served as best man. Groomsmen were Tom Wright and Robert Smock, Jr., both of Grayling. Curt Feldhauser of Lansing and Tom Kessler of Andrus of Wyandotte and Jim Dawson of Grand Rapids serving as junior ushers.

A reception was held at the Officer's Club at Camp Grayling immediately following the ceremony, after which the newly married couple left on a week's honeymoon to Niagara Falls and Southern Michigan.

For her going away costume the bride chose a brown crepe pantsuit with white trim and brown accessories. She wore a corsage of orange fringe mums.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Feldhauser chose an apricot crepe dress and matching coat with bronze accessories. Mrs. Dawson wore a blue chiffon dress with white embroidered flowers and blue accessories. Both mothers wore corsages of bronze and white cushion mums.

The bride is a 1967 graduate of Grayling High School. She attended Alpena Community College for one year and Central Michigan University one year. Her husband is a 1964 graduate of Grayling High School, was in the Marine Corps and is presently attending Ferris State College. They will make their home in Big Rapids.

Out of town guests attended from Martin, Ohio; Ritter, Oregon; Wyandotte, East Detroit, Taylor, Lincoln Park, Grand Rapids, Midland, Petoskey, Flint, Ann Arbor, Rosecommon, Hillsdale, Bellaire, Mio, Corunna, Mt. Pleasant and Gaylord.

Grayling Man in CMU Theatre Production

By Joe Baker

MT. PLEASANT — Dane E. Madsen, a Grayling senior at Central Michigan University, has been named to major roles in the CMU Chamber Theatre production of "A Singular Man."

Madsen portrays nine different men in the comedy which will be presented at 8 p.m. on October 9, 10 and 12 in Pearce Auditorium 128 on the CMU campus.

The play was adapted from J. P. Donleavy's novel by Dr. Elbert R. Bowen, professor of speech and dramatic arts at CMU, who will also be directing it.

Madsen has appeared in several other University productions and is a member of Alpha Psi Omega, honorary dramatics fraternity. He also took part in speech festivals last year in Ohio, Arizona and Utah.

A speech and dramatic arts major, he is the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Madsen of 404 Ionia St. and a 1967 graduate of Grayling High School.

Archers Score 4th Highest Deer Take in '69
LANSING — Michigan archers last season didn't match their shooting success in 1968, but they did take 2,580 deer to score their fourth highest harvest on record, reports the Department of Natural Resources.

Final results of a DNR post-card survey of licensed bowhunters show that last year's archery deer kill fell 100 animals short of the 1968 mark despite a record turnout of sportsmen.

Of an estimated 62,670 archers who took to the state's fields and forest last fall, 4.1 percent — one of every 25 — figured in the season's take. In 1968, 4.4 percent were successful.

The 1969 season saw 6.3 percent of the archers filling their licenses as the bowhunters harvest that year hit an all-time high of 2,810 whitetails.

Shooting success fell off last season to 4.4 percent among Upper Peninsula bowhunters who traditionally pace the state in this category. During the 1968 season, 10.5 percent of them accounted for the region's harvest.

Last year's archery deer kill for the Upper Peninsula totaled 150 as against 380 in 1968.

Bowhunters in the northern Lower Peninsula last season led the field in total take and shooting success. Their harvest reached 1,580 animals with 4.6 percent of them hitting the mark.

The first figure stands 330 above the region's harvest of deer in 1968.

Southern Michigan archers, like those above the Straits, didn't fare as well last season as they did in 1968. Their take dropped to 840 whitetails in 1969, compared with 1,040 the year before.

Only 3.4 percent of the farm-belt's bowhunters got their deer last fall.

Archery deer license sales for 1969 have been placed at $5,306, eclipsing the record set the year before by more than 2,000.

How to Protect Property Value

By Willard Bosserman
County Extension Director

Have you ever heard any one complain because a travel trailer was moved in next door to them? Has any one ever lamented because a drive-in restaurant was going in next door to their home? How about that junk yard in your neighborhood?

All of these things are legitimate. In fact all are needed in our present day society. Trailers or mobile homes constituted twenty-five (25%) percent of the homes sold in America in 1969. They are here to stay.

We are a nation on wheels. Drive-in restaurants, drive-in theaters and even drive-in dumps are part of our way of life.

Junk yards, or the waste salvage business is an absolute necessity in our society of waste-makers.

What is not necessary is the conglomeration of all land uses without thought of the surrounding neighborhood.

With a little forethought local citizens can protect their properties from non-compatible uses.

The first step is to take a look at present land use. The second step is to decide how they would like their neighborhood to grow. Grow it will. What with our growing population, growth cannot be stopped.

After the citizens decide where the different uses should go they can enact an ordinance to assure themselves that a non-compatible use will not move in next door.

ABWA News

The regular monthly meeting of the Grayling Chapter of American Business Women's Association was held Tuesday, Sept. 15, at Arrowhead Inn.

Jim Sylvester, president of the Grayling Broadcasting Co. was the guest speaker. He told us how Grayling was chosen for their radio station and explained some of the necessary preliminary steps before operation could be started. He also told of some of the expenses involved, income and how the ads were made up.

Discussion was held on another wig and jewelry show which will probably be held sometime in November. Note paper and cards were passed out to members to sell.

The next meeting will be October 20 at Chief Shoppenagons. The ABWA Fall Hand of Friendship Tea was held Sunday, Sept. 20, at the home of Mrs. Emil Kraus with Mrs. Harold Hatfield, Jr. as chairman.

The guests were welcomed by president, Mrs. Richard Rasmussen, and Miss Eunice Schreiber gave the history of ABWA. Mrs. Arthur Fieldhauser presided at the piano.
